

No More Fear at T-Mobile USA!

We need to get 10,000 people to join our online campaign calling on parent company Deutsche Telekom to stop US management's anti-union bullying at T-Mobile USA:

If you haven't already, please support T-Mobile USA workers who want to join the Communications Workers of America (CWA-TU). Management has responded to these workers with threats and scare tactics aimed at blocking their efforts to organize.

So far almost 8500 people around the world have joined the campaign. Please stand in solidarity with these workers in their fight for union rights.

Once you've signed on to the campaign, please share it with your friends and colleagues via email, Facebook and Twitter.

Deutsche Telekom, T-Mobile USA's parent company, has a proven record of respect for workers' rights and engagement in collective bargaining related to wages and working conditions in Germany. We are joining together across the global union movement to deliver a message to Deutsche Telekom that we expect better from a corporation committed to social justice.
