

The Poor Can't Pay

The Poor Can't Pay has just launched two hard-hitting web videos to highlight just how hard life has become for those on the lowest incomes in our society.

The launch comes amidst new rumours that the Government is considering a further cut in welfare rates. If such cuts go ahead they will drive hundreds of thousands of individuals, families and children deeper into poverty.

The purpose of these videos is to remind people - many of whom are experiencing their own worries and deprivations during this recession - that the poorest in our society still require our protection. The Videos are available at <http://www.thepoorcantpay.ie/?i=1252404121824261>

Mandate are asking everyone who supports these views to do two things:

- Tell your friends, family and colleagues about the web videos - e-mail the links or post them on your Facebook page
